5 NYC Members Now Employed

Five former members of the local Neighborhood Youth Corps have gained fulltime employment since December 1, according to NYC director W. P. Combs.

According to the NYC head, three have been hired by the Hazard Appalachian Regional Hospital, one with the state highway department, and one with the Hazard Fire Department.

Joe Hignite, Heidi Campbell and Marilyn Pratt have landed permanent jobs with the Hazard hospital while Paul Brock begins his second day with the state highway department today. Alvin Caudill was hired Friday by the HFD.

15 Have Jobs

This brings the total number of enrollees who have gained permanent employment through the NYC program to 15 said Combs.

Marilyn Pratt has been employed as admissions clerk while Hignite was hired as business office clerk at the hospital. Heidi Campbell is employed as a nursing service clerk at the ARH.

Brock, who joined the state department Friday, is an engineering aide for the state highway department.

City Hires Caudill

Caudill was hired by the city commissioners at their regular meeting Thursday at the city hall. Caudill previously worked at the fire department through the NYC program.

The November NYC report shows the 207 youths participated in the program during the initial period earning $28,538.19 while working 22,830½ hours.

Included in the report were 16 new enrollees and 16 terminations.

Combs said that there were 201 Perry County youths participating in the present program.

Leslie County Man Arrested In Raid

Kentucky State Police and the Leslie County Sheriff's Department conducted a raid at the home of Buster Hoskins, 4 miles south of Hyden on U. S. 421 over the weekend.

Hoskins was arrested and placed in Leslie County Jail at Hyden on a charge of possession of alcoholic beverages in local option territory.

Officers confiscated in the raid, 171 cans of 16 oz. beer and 59 half pints of whiskey.

Kentucky State Trooper Robert Dees, of the Hazard Post, assisted the Leslie County law enforcement officials in the raid.

Johnson Escapes Kentucky Village

Michael Johnson, 22, escaped from the Kentucky State Hospital yesterday according to officials.

Officials say that this is the second time that Johnson has escaped from the hospital. He is 5 foot 10 inches and weighs 164 pounds.

Anybody knowing the whereabouts of Johnson should contact the Perry County Sheriff's Department.

Perry County Families Move Less Often

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 — (Special to The Hazard Herald)—Residents of Perry County apparently find that the grass is greener right where they are.

Their record shows that they do less moving about from one locality to another than people in most parts of the country.

The findings are based on data compiled by the Census Bureau. The purpose was to determine the extent of internal migration in the United States and to discover why people dig up their roots in one place to take up residence somewhere else.

The national picture appears to be one of high mobility. In a period of just one year, from 1963 to 1964, no less than 36 million people nearly one out of every five in the population moved to new addresses.

Perry County residents are less transient than that. Some 16,383 of them were found to be in the same houses that they had been living in five years before, according to a detailed study based on data gathered in the last census. The number of local people who did move during the five-year period totaled 13,829. Of these, 11,207 merely changed to other locations within the county. Another 2,622 came in from other areas to take up local residence.

No figures are available to indicate how many may have left the county to live elsewhere.

It boils down to the fact that only 45 out of every 100 people in Perry County were living in different houses after a period of five years.

This mobility rate 45 percent, was lower than the rate reported for the United States as a whole, 47 percent.

The rate in the East South

Fred Vesico Dies Suddenly Of Heart Attack

Fred Vesico, well-known business and civic leader, died at 9:45 a.m. this morning at the Mount Mary Hospital after suffering a heart attack about two hours earlier.

Vesico, 51, was a member of the Methodist Church in Hazard and secretary-treasurer of the Hazard Auto Supply Company.

He was a Mason and Shriner and was very active in politics although he did not hold any public office. He was one of Perry County's leaders in fighting for support of the $176 million state bond issue which passed in the November General Election.

He was also highly interested in the Buckhorn Lodge and state park project.

He is survived by his wife, Arbutus; and one daughter, Freddie Jane at home.

His father, Andy of Harlan; and four brothers, Kimbell Layne of Conn., Herbert of Richmond, Kentucky, Robert and Richard of Los Angeles, California also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon, December 23, at 2 p.m. at the Bowman Memorial Methodist Church with Rev. W. R. Wood officiating.

Burial will be in the Englewood Cemetery with the Engle Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Napier Senior Wins Essay Award

Miss Sharon Sue Hutton, a senior at M.C. Napier High School has won first place in the state wide essay contest on air pollution.

The title of the essay was, "How Air Pollution Affects Perry County."

The contest was sponsored by the Air Pollution Division of the Kentucky State Department of Health and the Perry County Health Department.

As first place winner in the state of Kentucky, Miss Hutton was presented a first prize of $100.00 by Governor Edward T. Breathitt on December 17, 1965 at the state capitol in Frankfort. She was accompanied to Frankfort by her teacher and contest sponsor at M. C. Napier, Mrs. Betty Mar Little and Mr. Paul Colwell, principal of the M. C. Napier High School.

Miss Hutton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hutton of Lost Creek. She plans to enter Eastern Kentucky State College at Richmond this fall, 1966.

Combs attended Wofford College under a basketball scholarship after graduation from Dilce Combs Memorial high school in 1954. While at Wofford he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity; Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity. He also was President of Block W the col-

Promotion Of F. D. Combs Announced by Henry Ward

F. D. Combs, administrative manager at the 10th District Highway Office in Jackson since 1962, has been promoted to a position as Assistant to M. W. Tindler, Deputy Commissioner for Rural Roads and Coordination, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced today.

Commissioner Ward said Combs will assume his new duties at Frankfort on January 1, 1966. William R. Roberts, Perry County, now reside at 978 Highland Avenue in Jackson. He is a member of the Jackson Kiwanis Club and Presbyterian Church.

Roberts, 45, has been with the Department of Highways since December, 1964. His work has been primarily in the Office of Management Services, but he also has served as administrative manager at the Bowling Green District Highway Office during his tenure.

Roberts was born in Louisville, but has been a resident of Lexington since 1946. He attended Louisville Male High School, and received his B.S. in accounting from the University of Kentucky in 1950. He is a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps and prior to employment with the Highway Department held executive positions with three mortgage banking firms.

Roberts is married to the former Luella Smith of Akron, Ohio, and the couple has a nine year old daughter, Rebecca.

Thieves Enter Antique Store Friday At Darfork

Thieves broke into the Susan Thrift Shop at Darfork early Friday morning and reportedly stole an electric clock, two irons, four billfolds and a number of small toys.

The establishment, operated by Frank Salyers, is an antique and furniture store near the Darfork post office.

According to Salyers, neighbors heard some dogs barking about 1 a.m. Friday near the business, but thought nothing about a break-in.

Salyers first noticed the break-in about 8 a.m. Friday when he went there to open the store.

According to the Perry County Sheriff's Department, there have been a number of recent break-ins in the immediate area.

The vandals gained entrance to the store by breaking off the door lock.

Perry County Deputy Carl Smith said that the county sheriff's office is continuing the investigation, and that they have some clues to the identity of the vandals.

Fire Department Called Out To Turner Home

The Hazard Fire Department was called out Saturday night at 7 p.m. to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Turner on School Street in Walkertown.

According to Chief Lawrence Sizemore the fire was confined to the kitchen area but the remainder of the two story received severe heat and smoke damage.

Sizemore said the fire apparently started from a shorted wire in the exhaust system of the electric stove.

Damage was expected to run several thousand dollars.

The fire chief issued a plea to residents to be extra careful through the holiday season, especially with Christmas trees and decorations. Make it a safe free holiday season in Hazard.

Sizemore also handed out a big thanks to all those who helped with the repair of dolls collected by the FD for distribution to needy children in the area.

"We especially want to thank the ladies of the First Baptist Church, The Golden Circle Sunday School Class of the Petrey Memorial Baptist Church and the lady employees of City Hall," for their help Sizemore said.

Petrey Church

To Present Cantata Wednesday

The Adult and Youth Choirs of the Petrey Memorial Baptist Church have combined to present a Christmas Cantata, "The Carol of Christmas" by John Peterson, at seven o'clock this Wednesday night. The Junior Choir will present a cantata entitled "What Gift Have I?" at the Sunday Morning service on December 26th. The Cherub Choir will also sing for this service.

The Carol of Christmas is a cantata based chiefly on arrangements of familiar carols with several new themes interspersed and tied together with appropriate scripture narration. It features several solo parts and some ensemble sections as well as the choir.

The junior cantata, "What Gift Have I?" is by Robert Graham and tells the story of the animals who came to pay their homage at the birth of Christ. Each section tells of a different animal who was present and of how each left a gift for the baby Jesus. Both choirs will be directed by the pastor, Ross Figart, Jr., and will be accompanied by Miss Virginia Campbell.

The Cherub Choir is directed by Mrs. Ruthe Figart and accompanied by Mrs. Pat Moore. The public is invited to both services.

Only One Day For Driver's Licensing

Perry Circuit Court Clerk Grace Strong has announced that the Kentucky State Police License Examiner will be in her office on Thursday only instead of the normal Thursday and Friday.

Written tests are given between the hours of 8 and 9:30 in the morning and 1 and 1:30 in the afternoon, road tests are given from 10 until 12 noon and 2 until 4 p.m.

City Board Purchases Two Pick-up Trucks

The Hazard board of city commissioners held its last regular monthly meeting of the year Thursday afternoon while purchasing two pick-up trucks for the city water department.

The apparent low bid went to Faulkner's Garage, who submitted a bid of $3,169.60. Others bidding on the two trucks which included trade-ins were Gene Baker Motor Company, $3,190.00; Davidson Motor Company, $3,627.00 and Lee Crutchfield, Inc., $3,400.00.

The board agreed to pass up several controversial issues until the new board takes office in January. The three present commissioners, C. Jack Burnett, Dr. Eli Boggs and C. B. "Country Boy" Feltner, will be replaced with Charlie Hammonds, Glen Maggard, L. T. "Tommy" Whisman and Elmer Roll.

Issues passed to the new board concerns (1) changing the downtown parking meters from five cents to ten cents per hour (2) to discuss possible action against the Kentucky Municipal League in a controversy about collecting taxes on insurance premiums.

Lunsford Dethorpe, representative of the Central Fire Truck Company of St. Louis, Missouri, explained to the board that the city would have to wait for a new fire truck approximately 12 to 14 months after an order has been placed.

After debate, the board voted to advertise for bids on a new fire truck. Dethorpe estimated the truck would cost about $45,000.

Herald Office To Be Closed This Friday

Due to the Christmas holiday period, the Herald office will be closed this Friday, Saturday and next Monday.

The Herald will be published only once next week, on Thursday. The office will be open next week, beginning Tuesday.

Feltner Seeks Rights For Taxi Service From Davis If State Okays

Eight additional public hearings have been scheduled during December by the Kentucky Department of Motor Transportation.

All hearings are at 10 a.m. (EST) in the department's offices at Frankfort.

Applicants to be considered, together with scheduled hearing dates, are:

Charles Feltner, Hazard, for authority to purchase the operating rights now owned by Mrs. Jesse Davis under Taxi Certificate No. 198; on Tuesday, December 21.

Verlin Holt, doing business as Corbin Red Cab, to purchase the operating rights now owned by Estill Barton, doing business as Corbin Red Cab under Taxi Certificate No. 344, 722 and 1353; on Monday, December 20.

Roy Daniel, Paintsville, doing business as Red Top Cab, to purchase the operating rights now owned by Orpha M. Childers, Paintsville, doing business as Red Top Cab under Taxi Certificate No. 577, on Wednesday, December 22.

Police Judge Don C. Fouts told the group that he could do nothing about punishing violators of overparking unless the violators were brought before him in court.

Fouts said that someone would have to issue a warrant for them, and bring the offender to court then he could deal with him. A judge cannot swear out a warrant commented Fouts.

On the recommendation of Urban renewal director Paul Townes, the board passed a resolution authorizing payment of $11,000 toward the city's share of $38,902.00 of the cash grant-in-aid for the North Main Street Urban Renewal Project.

Voting in favor of the measure were Dr. Boggs, Mr. Feltner and Mayor Dawahare. Mr. Burnett passed on the issue.

State Announces Ritchie Promotion

C. Leslie Dawson, state commissioner of economic security, announced today two changes in the Hazard office.

Willie Ritchie, a native of Knott County, has been promoted to area field representative with the employment service covering southeastern and northeastern Kentucky.

Filling the vacancy left by Ritchie as manager of the employment security office which includes both employment insurance and unemployment insurance, will be Fred Caudill of Jeremiah.

Ritchie, 54, has been with the economic security department the past 24 years. Married to the former Lovella Combs of Knott County, he attended Vico High and Morehead State College.

Caudill's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hizey Caudill of Jeremiah.

Appalachian Family In New York In Real Life Christmas Phantasy

The heart-warming story of how one Appalachian community wrote its own happy ending to a Christmas fantasy is being shown to throngs of New Yorkers in the lobby "theatre" of The Manhattan Savings Bank.

As with many Appalachian families, the Edgar Dixons of Red Star Hollow at Blackey, Kentucky, were deprived of income by the diminishing mine activity. In Mr. Dixon's case, serious injury forced him to resign after 20 years in the mines.

Along with the Dixons, several of the 14 families in the community of Red Star Hollow resorted to an almost forgotten craft, rug hooking, to implement their income. Under the guidance of Mrs. Lundy Adams, a former school teacher and wife of a dedicated physician, "Hound Dog Rug Hookers" was organized. It is managed by Mrs. Irene Kinger.

News of the rug hooking project reached the ears of Mr. Willard K. Denton, president of The Manhattan Savings Bank. With some of his associates, Mr. Denton went to Red Star Hollow to see the work being done.

Arrangements were made to bring the Dixons, Edgar, Irene, his wife; Sue, 13, and Garry Lee, 8, and Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Kinger to New York. Their accommodations and entertainment are taken care of by the bank. In addition, the Dixons are being "starred" in a real life fantasy of Christmas in Appalachia. The playlet is attracting such crowds that special police have been engaged to direct traffic in the bank.

Between performances of the fantasy, "The Magical Spirit of Christmas," "The Hound Dog Rug Hookers" work at their ancient craft in the bank's windows and the rugs are sold at a country store in the lobby.

The bank's officials and employees have been so moved by the courage and skill of their guests from Appalachia that they are contributing to an all out Merry Christmas for all the families of Red Star Hollow.

Native Perry Countian Describes The U. S. War In Viet Nam

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article concerns the impressions of a local youth in Viet Nam. They are excerpts from his letters home and are presented in a chronological manner after the introduction.)

The American soldier waded slowly through the rice paddy, alert to each and every sound that he heard or imagined he heard. His rifle was ready, his finger itched back and forth across the trigger. Each step was taken with diligent care; each glance was measured with the concern of a person expecting, expecting, expecting. Then he was out of the paddy and back to the safety of camp.

He collapsed against a small tree and the dimmed moon glinted across his name tag, Fitzpatrick, it read. The place: Viet Nam; the time: now.

One wonders just what are the thoughts and impressions of a young man engaged in his biggest and perhaps his deadliest adventure — combat.

PFC Kenneth Fitzpatrick is now in his big adventure somewhere in the murky swamps, jungles, and rice paddies of Zone D in Viet Nam.

A 1961 graduate of Hazard High and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fitzpatrick, Jr., 226 Poplar Street, he had been in the Army 16 months when he was alerted for overseas travel. The U. S. 1st Infantry Division (the Big Red One) was going to war again.

Ken and his buddies were not told specifically where they were going, but they knew — and knowing made their final moments with their families tender, touching, poignant.

And then his adventure began as he and his comrades left Oakland, California, on September 28, on the USS Brackland. His impressions:

The shore line is growing distant. It sure is a strange feeling leaving the United States and thinking about where we are going.

You know, not much happens out here in the middle of the ocean.

When we started the sea was rough, now it is rough and cold.

They tell us it will get hot and hotter the further we go. That's good.

'Everywhere you look there's only water. It is a real deep blue.'

'This boat is really crowded. Built to hold 2800 and there are 3500 of us.'

'Our sleeping quarters are very cramped. What we sleep on is a piece of canvas laced on a frame with rope. It's a yard wide and very uncomfortable. We're on the fifth level and that's below the water line. Its eerie.'

'I'm about to go crazy with nothing to do. They show movies on deck but if you don't get seated about three or four hours before it starts, you can't see it. Besides I wouldn't sit on that hard steel deck for eight hours if they were handing out one thousand dollar bills.'

THE SHIP PLODS STEADILY ON

'Well, we've come 1300 miles, only 5700 to go.'

'I guess the Navy is where Dad learned to eat most anything. They've not had anything I like since I've been on the ship—but you've got to eat, beats starving, so I hold my nose and eat.'

'We've been in a storm all day, waves are so big they come up over the front of the ship.'

'For the past 23 years I have seen every day come and go, but today, is Sunday and tomorrow is Tuesday, so I won't see Monday. We cross the International Date Line tonight and gain a day.'

'I just came off deck. It is beautiful up there. The moonlight gleams on the water and the sky is so clear. The stars look like I could reach out and just pick them out of the sky.'

'Come 3350 miles, only have 3650 to go.'

'It happened. I sat on that hard deck for two hours to see a movie. Had too, going nuts.'

OKINAWA IS SIGHTED

'When we got up this morning we could see something way off that looked like a cloud, but it turned out to be Okinawa. The island is huge and very pretty. The Air Force has a big air strip right on the beach. It's the busiest place I've ever seen, one plane after the other. It only took us 14 days to get here. Seven more and we'll be in Saigon.'

'Okinawa is even prettier at night. There are 15 ships in the harbor and all are lit up. Guess it's a sight a mountain boy will never forget.'

'After we leave here, it will take about a week to get to Saigon. Guess then this business of ours will get serious. I try not to think much about it, but guess I will when we get there.'

'Yesterday we passed part of the Philippine Islands and right now we're somewhere in the South China Seas. We should be able to see Viet Nam tomorrow. We just passed an aircraft carrier and two destroyers, must be part of the seventh fleet.'

'I see Viet Nam. It is just a blur off in the horizon, but I see it. Come to think of it, I'll see quite a bit of that country.'

VIET NAM

'Our ship was anchored off shore about five miles and they took us in on LCTs, about halfway in it began to rain and we all got soaked.'

'We're on our way to our base camp now. Boy, this place is hot. My t-shirts remain wet night and day.'

'When we got to the camp, I dug in real deep, then cut bushes that were in my line of fire. Well, I didn't get much sleep because we all had to stay up and watch, because the Viet Cong (VC) usually hit new outfits when they move in. They didn't hit us though, hit the company about a mile down the perimeter.'

'I finally got a bath. Since it rains everyday, I stripped and got my soap and waited for it to pour. It came and I cleaned up. But it rained for an hour and our foxholes filled up with four or five feet of water, so my bath didn't help much because I had to get in a hole or guard.'

'Last night I was scared to death when I was on guard. It looked as if every little thing out there would move. It is so nerve-racking that I sometimes wish they would come on and attack.'

'There is sniper fire during the night, but they don't know what they're shooting at. They're trying to get us to fire so they can see where we are.'

'Boy, this place is hot as hell, I'm sunburned on the back of my neck and arms and I had a good suntan already.'

'I haven't seen much of the country yet, but what I've seen is water.'

LOTS OF VIET CONG

'We're at this place that doesn't have a name. It's a rubber plantation right on the edge of Zone D. There's VC all over the place, so we will be cutting through the jungle with a machete in one hand and a rifle in the other.'

Tomorrow we go on a training exercise called Operation Big Sweep in a valley just to the North (for those who are following the Viet Nam war, Operation Big Sweep is a familiar name. The Americans and Vietnamese encircled a large VC force in a valley and were closing in to destroy it when somehow the VC force infiltrated out of the trap. It's supposed to be a training area, but we had three guys killed out there.

'Got to run. They've started selling cold beer and I can't miss that. Anyway, it's so hot out here I've got to have something to sweat out.'

'Yesterday we got to know the country a little more and it is sure different and difficult. We were on a patrol and had to cut our path. Sometimes we had to crawl. What made it bad was having to lug mortars. We had a little excitement, running across a VC camp but they had bugged out.'

'I'll tell you what. If I was in a combat zone all the time the Army wouldn't be so bad. There's no spit and polish. Don't have time for it.'

'Boy, the sky is always full of jets and helicopters, even at night.'

'We've not had anyone hurt this week; we've been lucky. The VC at us every night, but not real hard. Just maybe a mortar barrage and sniper fire at dusk and dawn.'

'Our defense is set up in a triangle with a battalion in it. To our line of fire the jungle is cleared for about 50 yards out. There are two rolls of concertina wire with trip flares on the jungle side and on this side a minefield then some more barbed wire. Most of our units use this type defense and we can really butcher them coming across like at Plei Ku.'

Hall and Rooms Ready For Big Day

by Jeannie Gross

All the classes at Buckhorn held parties Friday. The seniors gave a party for the first grade.

The past week has been a hard one with all the six weeks tests. The semester tests will be the week of January 9.

The halls and rooms are all decorated for Christmas. There is a large tree in the hall and several of the class rooms have trees.

Keith Merrill and Wayne Lan-drum have worked very hard to get the hall decorated and have done an excellent job.

We had a very good lunch Friday, the turkey dinner was made even better by the beautiful candles and decorations at each table.

The Wildcats were defeated by McKee on Tuesday, December 14.

I would like to wish everyone the merriest of Christmases and a wonderful New Year.

UK's 100th Year Ends February 22

The year-long celebration of the University of Kentucky's 100th anniversary will mark both an end and a beginning. Dr. John W. Oswald, UK president, has announced.

The Centennial Year, which began with a visit by President Johnson last February 22, will end on the same date in February, 1966. However, the week-end in years hence will be given over to Founders' Day activities, he said.

The 1966 program for the February 19 to 22 weekend will include a Founders' Day ball, a Founders' Day convocation with a distinguished speaker, and several dinners and luncheons sponsored by the UK Board of Trustees for the faculty and others.

In addition, the Student Centennial Committee will present a major cultural program.

Dr. Oswald made his announcement at a meeting with the student committee which presented him with a $2,000 check for the Centennial Scholarship Fund. The money was obtained from various anniversary year events.

Mrs. Aster Sizemore

Sizemore - Patrick Exchange Vows Saturday At 4:00 P. M.

Miss Ann Steele Patrick and Mr. Aster Sizemore said their wedding vows Saturday afternoon at 4 in the First Presbyterian Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. David Holt before a setting of cathedral candelabra with silver urns holding champagne, gladioli and mums centered with the open Bible with a background of pine garlands decorated with magnolia leaves and green satin ribbon.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Henry Patrick of 620 Cherry Ave., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beckham Sizemore of Hazard, Ky.

Mr. David Blanchard presented the program of traditional wedding music and Mr. T. C. McDow sang "O Lord Most Holy" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Bride's Attire

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie fashioned with portrait neckline, three quarter sleeves and basque trimmed with Alencon lace at the waist. The bell skirt featured lace medallions at the scalloped hemline and terminated into a chapel train. Her elbow length French illusion veil was attached to a headpiece with lace medallions centered with pearl clusters and she carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, and baker fern.

Bridesmaids

Miss Etta Jane Osborne of Charlotte County was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Jackie Jamison of Boones Mill, Miss Bonnie Weaver of Alexandria, Miss Sally Leedy of Hazard, Ky., and Miss Nancy Neat of Waynesboro. They wore floor length gowns of green and gold silk brocade designed with scoop neckline, intermission length sleeves and empire waist. Their head pieces were single bows of velveteen ribbon matching the trim on the dresses.

The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of cream and fugi mums and baker fern and bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of green fugi mums.

Mr. David Gillespie of North Carolina was best man and ushers were Messrs. Newt Green, Fred Stidham, and Ronnie Lindon, all of Hazard, Ky., and Emery Taylor of Staunton.

Reception

Following a southern wedding trip, the couple will live in Hazard, Ky., where the groom is a teacher and foot ball coach at Hazard High School. The bride is a graduate of Radford College, Radford, and the groom is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, of Lost Creek, celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary December 22, 1965, with a dinner at their home for their children and neighbors. The Jones' were married December 22, 1915, at Rowdy.

They have nine living children: R. C. and Jasper, of Yellow Springs, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Deaton, of Austin, Indiana; Mrs. Bessie Bargo, Alonzo, Rizal and Jim Jones, all of Fairborn, Ohio; Mrs. James R. Holliday, of New Orleans, La.; and Mrs. Verla Engle, of Dayton, Ohio; 25 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The children brought their parents a three-tiered cake. The Jones' received many nice gifts from their family and friends.

"Sweepstakes Winner"

Mrs. Lois Combs, of Bula, is shown accepting a $250 certificate from Dee Ratliff, of East Kentucky Beverage Co., for winning the local portion of the "Miss America Matching Picture Sweepstakes". Mrs. Combs was the only local lady to win. She is now eligible to win $10,000.00 in cash and a new convertible. The money was put to good use as Mrs. Combs did her shopping at Maude Baker's Store on Second Creek.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl three years old and I am trying to be a good little girl.

I would like a table and chairs, a bowling set and anything else you would like to bring me. I found my Baby First Step doll that you left at my house for me and I want to thank you for it. She is a lot of fun and I really enjoy her.

Please don't forget the other little children all over the world.

I will leave you a soft drink and some cookies under the tree.

Yours little friend,
Debbie Jean Hall
Christopher, Ky.

Dear Santa:

I am six years old and in the first grade.

Please bring me a Secret Sam, hands down, skateboard, Johnny Eagle and anything you want to.

Don't forget my little brother, Russell Allen. He is four years old. He wants a BB Gun, cars, guitar, housecoat and house shoes.

We will leave you something under the tree.

Thank you, Santa.

Your Friend,
Bobby Muncy
609 Broadway
Hazard, Ky.

Dear Santa:

My name is Kenzie Ison, I live at Slomp, Kentucky. I would like to have a ball, and some blocks and a holster and two pistols to play with. Oh yes! I want a toy truck too.

I will leave you two ice cold coca colas under the tree and two pieces of cake.

I Love You Santa

Kenzie Ison

P. S. Don't worry Santa, I've been a good little boy.

Chester Rose Paces Hazard Over Clark County, Whitesburg

Prep-Talk

with Oscar Combs

Impressed with "Big Ches"

Rosecoe Shackleford and company have passed their first test if that's what you call it of the season Friday night by dealing Clark County a sound 71-51 whipping behind an outstanding performance from 6-6 Chester Rose.

Chester's exhibition was one of the best this columnist has ever seen as Rose completely dominated play throughout the night with fantastic hooks and 15-foot jump shots.

At first I was almost sure that Chester had "lady luck" with him on his hook shots, but before the night was over I was pretty well convinced that Chester didn't need any luck.

If that wasn't enough to make believers of everyone, then Saturday's performance against Whitesburg would have left old man Adolph Rupp begging for the Hazard eger's services.

Chester still appears to be a little overweight, and is not rebounding at top form, but his uncanny accuracy from the floor has Bulldogs fans in a daze.

And when Chester starts rebounding as he did last year, then Hazard fans had better watch out.

Louisville Male and Ashland on their home floor.

Talking about the Commonwealth's best club, Hazard (?) brings to mind the recent flurry of talk of how the Bulldogs will fare in the Ashland Invitational Tournament beginning December 28.

The Shackmen have not been playing their best this season and coach Shackleford probably doesn't want the Bulldogs to reach the peak before the middle of February but with the talent Hazard owns, and the way the canines have been improving in the last two weeks, I think the Hazard five is ready for all comers, including Newcast Ashland Invitational Tournament.

One interesting side note is that one of the teams, Harrison County, is supposed to be one of Central Kentucky's best cage clubs. Even though we all know you cannot judge teams by comparison, some consideration can be given on this view point.

Clark County defeated Harrison County and Hazard soundly trashed the Clark Cardinals Friday night, and with this to consider, the Bulldogs are raring and ready to go in the Ashland Invitational Tournament.

Page 4 THE HAZARD HERALD, Monday, December 30, 1951

Ashland Invitational Tournament:

The upper bracket has Ashland against Fairview and Harrison playing Mt. Sterling McDowell playing the winner of the Ashland-Fairview game.

The lower bracket pits Newport against Male and Greenup against Russell with Hazard playing the winner of the Greenup-Russell game. Male is the defending champion.

With two games scheduled Monday through Friday, the championship game is carded for 8:30 p.m. New Year's Eve.

Gabbard Tallies 35 As Owsley Rolls

Tommy Gabbard defeated Berea Foundation single-handed Tuesday night as Gabbard outscored the entire Berea team by 35-33 as Owsley County won the contest 64-33.

Gabbard, the high scoring for J. D. Seale's Ows, paced Owsley into a 34-22 first half lead before ending the battle with a 64-33 win.

Garrett was next high to Gabbard in Owsley County scoring with 10 points. Wear paced Berea Foundation with 12 points.

At Owsley Co. (64) — Mayes 5, Gabbard 35, Angel 7, Garrett 10, C. Gabbard 5.

Berea Foundation (33) — Wear 12, Atkinson 4, Applegate 2, Banks 6, Hughes 7, Yelton 6, Owsley Co. 16 34 50 64, Berea Found. 13 22 29 33.

MINERAL DEPOSITS FOUND IN CLARK CO.

The Kentucky Geological Survey, based at the University of Kentucky, discloses that geologic mapping in southwestern Clark County has resulted in finding of new deposits of barite and fluorite. A preliminary map concerning the discovery has been published and is available at the KGS office.

UK Changes Academic Program

Whether they plan to major in engineering or economics, education or entomology, all University of Kentucky freshmen, beginning next September, will enroll in the College of Arts and Sciences and remain in that college until the beginning of their junior year.

This policy, part of a broad new academic program just approved by the University's Board of Trustees, is aimed at giving all UK graduates, whatever their major field of study, a liberal education based on the equivalent of a full year's study in the basic disciplines.

The new plan further stipulates that all freshmen entering the University next September and thereafter must complete, as a requirement for graduation, a sequence of course work in not less than five of eight prescribed areas of general studies. These areas are: (1) mathematics-philosophy; (2) physical sciences; (3) biological sciences; (4) foreign languages; (5) humanities (literature, art and music); (6) history; (7) social sciences, and (8) behavioral sciences.

The general studies sequences are not freshman and sophomore requirements but graduation requirements, and so may be completed at any time during the four years of undergraduate work. The separate colleges within the University may require completion of more, but not less, than five of the eight sequences.

McDowell Clips Warfield 59-56

The McDowell Daredevils of coach Pete Grigsby annexed their 9th win in 11 starts this season by edging Warfield 59-56 last Friday night.

Warfield led after one period 9-7 but McDowell evened things up at halftime 24-24.

The 'devils took charge in the third period and came out on top 41-37.

Rick Hall led the winners with 20, Tracy Stumbo added 12 and Donnie Hall, Rick's brother, came up with 11.

Mitchell Moore was the Warfield eager to hit double figures with 15.

McDowell's next action will be tomorrow night when the Daredevils journey to Wayland to meet the Wasps.

Bulldogs Breeze; Eye Gigantic AIT

By OSCAR COMBS

Hazard's undefeated and "tournament hungry" Bulldogs captured victory number five and six over the weekend by trouncing Clark County 71-51 Friday night at Memorial Gymnasium and Whitesburg 73-39 Saturday at the Letcher County seat while preparing for the gigantic Ashland Invitation Tournament next week at Ashland.

Senior center Chester Rose, poised and confident, came out with the usual man to man defense and snowed Lewis Snowden's Clark County Cardinals with a third period scoring blitz that saw the Bulldogs outrun the Cards 15-2 in the first 6:36.

Chester, who entered the contest with an 18.3 scoring average with 73 points in four tilts, overtook Jimmy Rose in the Hazard scoring lead with 51 points in two nights' work.

Rosecoe Shackleford's forces, poised and confident, came out with the usual man to man defense and snowed Lewis Snowden's Clark County Cardinals with a third period scoring blitz that saw the Bulldogs outrun the Cards 15-2 in the first 6:36.

Hazard With 34-28 Lead

Entering the second half with only a 34-28 margin, the Bulldogs stormed ahead 49-30 behind the fabulous shooting of Chester Rose with 1:24 remaining in the third quarter.

From there, the riding was easy for Hazard as the canines connected on 22 field goals and 27 of 35 free throw attempts.

Clark County opened up early with Steve Smith's 15-footer giving the Cardinals a temporary 3-2 lead with 6:01 to go in the first stanza.

Hazard's Jimmy Rose, Kentucky's "Mr. Basketball", immediately missed two grate shots for a 4-3 lead with 5:37 left on the scoreboard in the first canto, and the Bulldogs were off and running.

Chester Hooks 15-Footer

Chester Rose sneaked in an unbelievable 15-foot hook shot with 2:33 on the clock and the Hazard five commanded a 10-5 lead, a five-point deficit which Clark Countians never managed to see again after the first eight minutes.

Snowden's group employed a tight man to man defense, but Hazard's potential All-Staters, especially Chester Rose, ripped the nets for 34 points in the first half which included six field goals by Chester.

Trying to stop Chester in the first half proved just as fatal to Clark County as Freddy Hogg and Jimmy Rose came prior to Friday, was held to a mere four points after Franklin County held him scoreless last Tuesday. In losing, Clark County's record fell to 5-3. Clark Co. had defeated Montgomery County, Mayville, Harrison County, Frankfort and Bryan Station while losing to Bourbon County, Franklin County and then to Hazard.

Jimmy Scores 10

Jimmy fired in three fielders in the final half and ended the night with 10 points, a below par offensive performance. Although he failed to contribute heavily in the scoring column, Jimmy installed some "fooh and ah" cries in the fans with his terrific passing and rebounding.

Chester, playing one of his best regular season games in his high school career, clearly explained why the Bulldogs were picked as the state's BEST in most pre-season polls.

Letting Chester get the ball is like leaving Louie Dampier open from 15 feet. Dampier is deadly from 15 feet when he is open, and when Chester gets the ball, just chalk up two points for the canines.

3 Cards Foul Out

Three Clark Countians left the game via the foul route, only after the tilt was clearly decided.

Ernest Gentry, a lanky 6-6 sophomore, turned in a fine performance for Coach Snowden with 19 points and Gentry may be a boy the Bulldogs will not want to reckon with during the next 2 years. Gentry displayed some fine moves for a varsity rookie, and with a little experience, he could develop into a real fine cager.

Gentry, who hit four field ers and 11 of 14 free throw attempts was followed in scoring by Steve Smith with 14 points and David Cottongen with 8 points.

Sewell Held Again

High scoring John Sewell, averaging 16.4 points per game prior to Friday, was held to a mere four points after Franklin County held him scoreless last Tuesday. In losing, Clark County's record fell to 5-3. Clark Co. had defeated Montgomery County, Mayville, Harrison County, Frankfort and Bryan Station while losing to Bourbon County, Franklin County and then to Hazard.

Hill In Special Combat Exercise

Aviation Boatswain's Mate First Class George Hill Jr., U.S.N., son of Mrs. Virginia Hill of Hazard, Ky., will always remember December 2, 1965, the day nuclear-powered warships were first used in armed combat against an enemy. He is serving aboard the nuclear-powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

As the carrier Enterprise went into combat, launching air strikes against the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, the nuclear-powered guided missile frigate Bainbridge was again at the "Big E's" side, providing anti air and anti submarine defense for the world's largest aircraft carrier.

These two ships recently completed a 30-day, 16,000 mile transit from Norfolk, Virginia to the Western Pacific to become the first nuclear-powered vessels to operate with the Seventh Fleet.

The movement of Enterprise and Bainbridge to the Seventh Fleet was the first step in transferring the Navy's four atomic powered surface warships to the Pacific Fleet. The nuclear-powered cruiser Long Beach and guided missile frigate Truxtun will be transferred in early 1966.

The nuclear reactors in these ships provide almost unlimited range and the ability to stay at sea for extended periods without refueling. Without the need for constant refueling, they are a valuable asset to the Seventh Fleet striking forces operating throughout the Western Pacific.

Pvt. Campbell On Medical Staff

Army Pvt. Estill Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pole Campbell, Route 1, Box 505, Hazard, Ky., was assigned December 3 to the staff at Ireland Army Hospital, Fort Knox, Ky.

Campbell entered the Army in September 1965. The 20 year-old soldier is a 1963 graduate of M. C. Napier High School.

The kind of Christmas you remember... evoked by the fire, turkey at Grandma's... a warm sense of "peace on earth"...

Now? Tense faces. War clouds. A pile of "Christmas bills." Grandma is worried. She's too busy for Christmas...

Christmas memories aren't enough to live by. Real Christmas means Christ in you, living His peace and joy and strength in your personality.

Find your real Christmas this year with Christ in your heart. CHRISTMAS IS CHRIST IN YOU!

TURNER CREEK EGGS

IT'S CHRISTMAS!

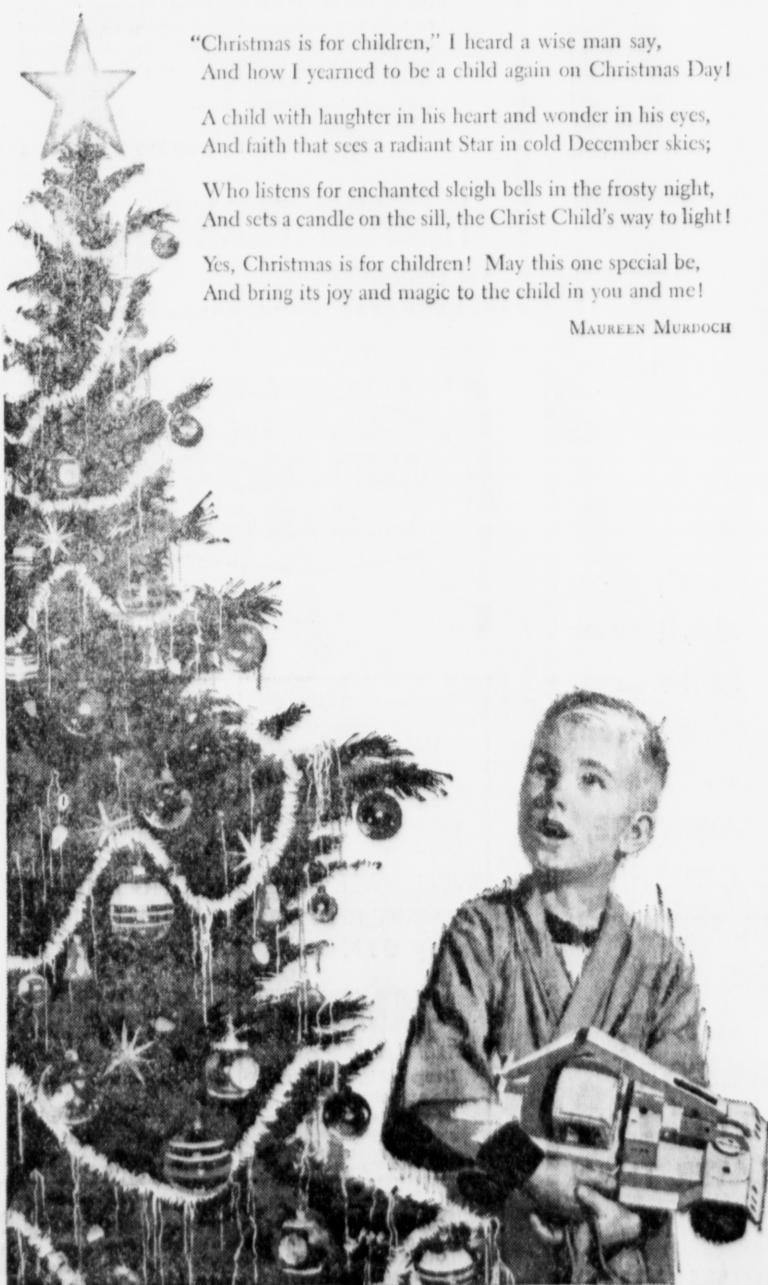

"Christmas is for children," I heard a wise man say,
And how I yearned to be a child again on Christmas Day!

A child with laughter in his heart and wonder in his eyes,
And faith that sees a radiant Star in cold December skies;

Who listens for enchanted sleigh bells in the frosty night,
And sets a candle on the sill, the Christ Child's way to light!

Yes, Christmas is for children! May this one special be,
And bring its joy and magic to the child in you and me!
